EDITION 2026-09-27.v1

ONE FULL DAY / BEIJING

Palace courtyards. A hilltop ending.

01 Before your booked session

Find the right gate

Allow an arrival buffer

Start early enough for the walk to Wumen, security and identity checks. Your hotel and departure point are unknown, so no transfer time is invented.

02 Morning · booked session

A south-to-north palace visit

3-4 hours · suggested

Enter at Wumen. Follow the signed visitor route through the palace courtyards and gardens towards Shenwumen. Respect the Taihemen works diversion; this is not a guaranteed uninterrupted central-axis walk.

03 After the palace

A proper lunch break

45-60 minutes · suggested

Eat after exiting, before the hill climb. Choose a nearby open place that fits your dietary needs; live search results are ideas, not restaurant endorsements.

AFTERNOON / LEAVE ROOM TO EXPLORE

Across to the hill.

04 After lunch

Shenwumen > Jingshan south gate

Reserve 15-25 minutes · buffer

Use the signed pedestrian crossing facilities. The buffer is an editorial allowance, not a measured walk. You can check this outdoor leg with Amap below.

05 Afternoon · flexible

Look back at the city

60-90 minutes · suggested

Enter Jingshan at the south gate. If conditions suit, climb to Wanchun Pavilion; otherwise keep to the lower paths. Leave the evening open.

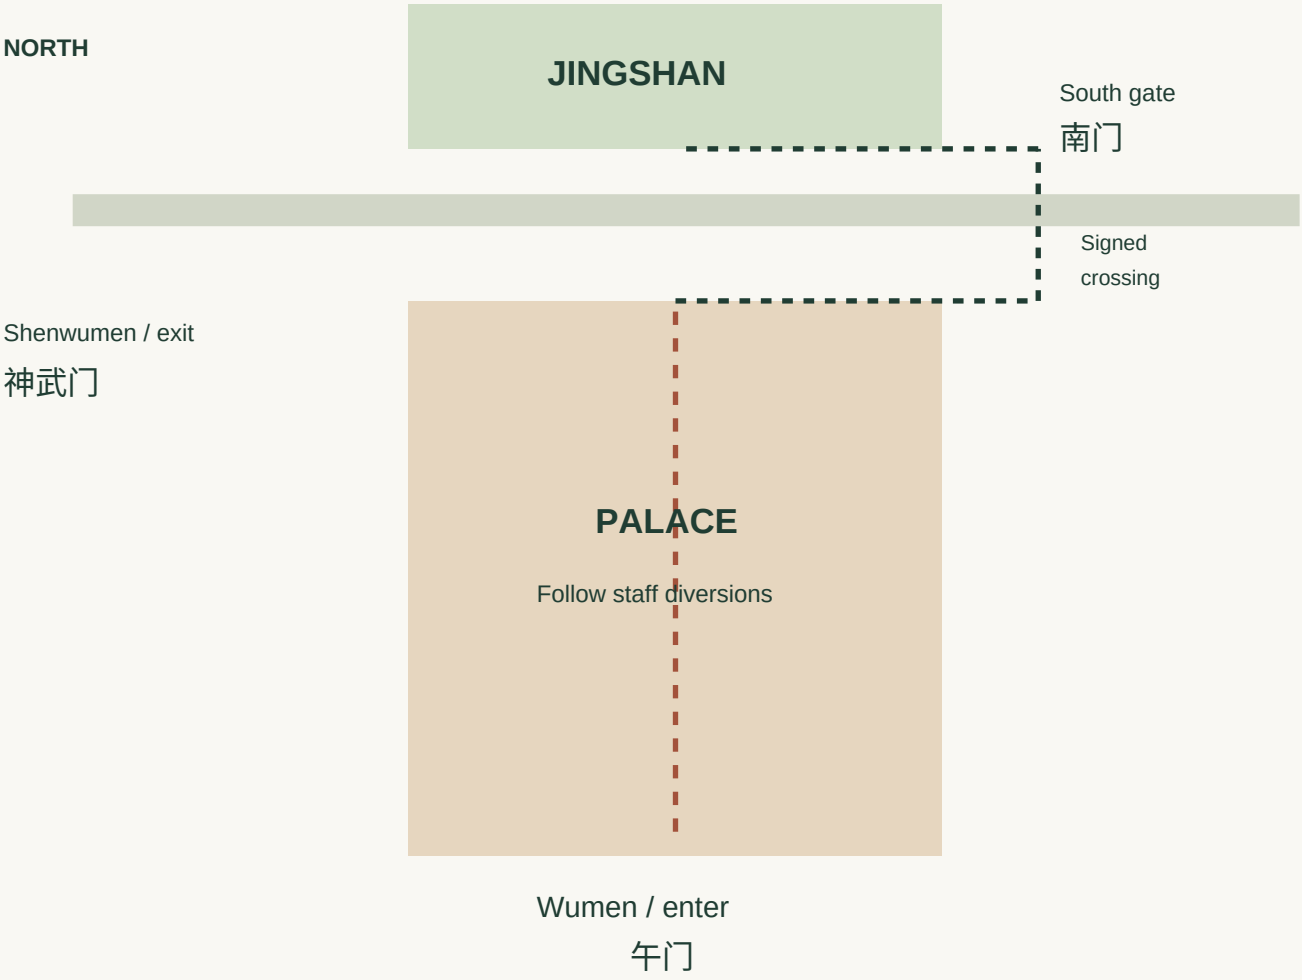

THE VIEW FROM JINGSHAN / LOOK BACK OVER THE PALACE ROOFS

The panorama is the reward, not a deadline. Allow for weather, steps and how you feel after the palace visit.

SOUTH TO NORTH / ORIENTATION ONLY

Find the right gate.

Not to scale. Crossing position is symbolic. Use signed pedestrian facilities, not this diagram for turn-by-turn directions.

The official guide lists Tian'anmen East/West metro approaches and walking via Donghuamen or Xihuamen. Check current security and pedestrian access; no station exit is asserted here.

Hotel transfer: not planned. Legal vehicle drop-off: not confirmed. Do not treat a museum address or gate pin as a place a driver can stop.

Live Amap lookup is available on the website for the outdoor leg. Provider estimates are not included in this offline edition.

The Forbidden City

故宫博物院

Booking & identity

Book through the Palace Museum official channels. Passport booking is supported. Carry the original document used for the booking. The current summary releases tickets seven days ahead at 20:00 Beijing time; check your date and session.

Entrance & visiting direction

Enter at Wumen (south). Visit northwards and leave at Shenwumen for Jingshan. Normally closed Mondays except statutory holidays; check dated notices. Taihemen has a works notice: follow the on-site diversion.

Look a little closer

Courtyards and roof details reward an unhurried look. Follow gallery photography signs; do not assume flash or tripods are permitted.

Booking & identity

The newer official FAQ permits on-site purchase, including at the south gate. Online tickets are also available through Changyou Gongyuan. Carry your passport and check date-specific notices.

Entrance & visiting direction

Approach the south gate after leaving the Palace Museum at Shenwumen. Use the signed pedestrian crossing. The hilltop viewpoint involves stairs.

Look a little closer

Wanchun Pavilion looks south over the palace roofs. Clear weather matters; use lower park paths if steps or poor visibility make the climb unsuitable.

PERSONAL CHECKS / NOT BOOKING CONFIRMATIONS

A calmer departure.

Confirm walking access and a legal drop-off if using a car. Museum address is not vehicle entrance.

KEEP THE DAY FLEXIBLE

When plans change.

TO CHECK: Choose a travel date before checking the operating day.

TO CHECK: A Palace Museum morning reservation is still to be confirmed. This plan does not reserve admission.

TO CHECK: Your arrival route and any vehicle drop-off are not confirmed.

NOTICE: Taihemen works were announced from 3 August 2026. A reopening date was not confirmed in this edition; follow staff directions.

Palace sold out or closed

Do not travel to Wumen expecting walk-up entry. Switch to a separately checked Jingshan / nearby neighbourhood day, or move the palace visit to a date you can book. This is a replacement day, not the same itinerary.

Rain, haze or tired legs

Skip the hilltop climb. Take a longer meal break or choose lower park paths if conditions allow. Do not add an unverified museum booking as a guaranteed fallback.

A gate or crossing is controlled

Follow staff directions. Recheck the outdoor route, allow more time and drop the optional hill climb before rushing. An Amap route does not override on-site controls.
